City ambulances likely

B. HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Mayor Paul Schuler told the Granite City Council Tuesday night that it is his recommendation that they move immediately toward establishing a city-operated emergency ambulance service and suggested that the aldermen "go along with the idea that we are going to be in the ambulance business on March 15."

The mayor's recommendation was made in a prepared statement in which the mayor outlined the past history of dwindling ambulance service in Granite City and the Quad-City area. He told the aldermen: "I believe that the city should undertake the exploration of providing emergency ambulatory services as a municipal service to the residents of this community."

The mayor's action followed a week-long discussion among city officials as to means of providing ambulance service in Granite City after Thomas Ambulance Service Inc. discontinues emergency service on March 15.

Officials of the ambulance firm notified the council of the March 15 deadline date in the regular council session last week.

Schuler said in his statement that in compliance with a request by the aldermen, he had met with St. Elizabeth Hospital authorities to discuss the possibility of hospital participation in operating an ambulance service. He said he had met with no results and that the hospital told him that if he

NOT SO PEACHY. Mrs. Edgar Thomas, 4128 Breckenridge Lane, is shown Tuesday with a nine-ounce frozen peach pie that her son had started to eat after it was cooked. The pie contains a large piece of china or glass. She is displeased that the manufacturer offered to replace the inexpensive pie but showed no interest in details that might have pinpointed the production place and time so that similar future occurrences could be avoided.

Surveillance may solve this crime

Police at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are trying to get to the bottom of a mysterious caper pulled off at the university's Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) office. Twenty-four pairs of men's dress slacks and ties were missing from the supply closet, according to Lt. Col. Samuel R. Ross.

Perhaps unknowingly, the thief did leave some clues for police. In each of his or her pantyhose size and his or her preference for "sunny-beige" stockings.

Col. Ross said SIUE police are following leads and have assigned their best people to the case. Meanwhile male ROTC cadets have volunteered to keep an eye out for any non-

Brief Smith layoff

A. O. Smith Corporation today announced a temporary layoff of about 1,400 production and maintenance workers at its auto frame manufacturing plant here.

Paul H. Kelly, plant manager, said the layoffs are due to curtailment of production at customers' plants.

A. O. Smith produces frames mainly for use in General Motors cars, including the Chevrolet Impala, Oldsmobile 88, Pontiac Bonneville and Buick LeSabre.

Kelly said today's layoffs will remain in effect at least to the end of this week. He expects to recall workers some time in the early part of next week.

Reduction in auto frame customers' production is due to

Response to ambulance halt is called essential

It is essential that emergency ambulance service be made available to Granite City residents, and the most likely means of providing such service is to establish a city-operated ambulance service, Mayor Paul Schuler told the City Council in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

In a prepared statement presented to the council, the mayor said:

"I estimate one year ago, Granite City was faced with the critical situation when Mercer's Mortuary and Davis Funeral Home simultaneously discontinued emergency and discontinuing operations. We all know the coverage for the Granite City area. At that time, Thomas Mortuary and EMT Ambulance Company served as the only remaining source of ambulance service. Since that time, EMT Ambulance Company has also discontinued operations.

"Now Granite City again is faced with the problem of being without an emergency medical coverage. It is essential that such emergency care be made available to this community on a 24-hour standby basis to serve all of our residents when the need arises."

"While there usually is great merit in the position that those who use the services should bear its cost, not all services can be provided. It is ready with cold feet."

So far, football player Joe Nardino—who has posed wearing pantyhose in a television commercial—is not among the suspects.

WARM FIREPLACES have been a help to many in keeping their homes warm during the current cold weather, as well as providing light and beauty. Fireplaces are part of the business of the new Midwest Lavastone Industries plant which opened Tuesday at 2057 Edison Ave. Kneeling is James Hadley, and standing is his brother, John Hadley, who are among the co-owners of the new business. Fake concrete "stones," weighing one-third as much as real stones are molded at the facility for mounting onto one of many available fireplace frames.

Lagoons pose problems with sewer delay

He said he feels a sewage treatment plant will be required. On the average, an acceptable sewage treatment plant designed to serve 1,000 persons costs between $300,000 and $400,000 to construct.

Rehabilitation of all of the sewage from the apartments and mobile home park to the treatment plant also will be required, according to the official.

He estimated that more than a half-million dollars may be necessary to bring the Lakeshore facility into compliance with state regulations.

Raw sewage flow in ditch to end today

He said melting snow today is expected to help clean the ditch and bypass pumping of the raw sewage was expected to resume today.

Falls 20 feet

Donald Knudsen, 2115a Delmar Ave., is in Firmin Design Hospital, St. Louis, after falling 20 feet from the back porch to the ground at 6:15 a.m. Wednesday.

His daughter reported he was leaving home for work and fell backwards over the porch railing landing on his back. He was recovering from a previous back injury and from broken ribs.

Knudsen was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where x-rays were taken and a possible fracture to his hip and back injuries were diagnosed before he was taken to the St. Louis hospital.

Consumer tips on 'junk mail'

Direct-mail advertising is big business, according to a postmaster.

"We don't like to use the term 'junk mail,'" he said.

"Primarily because the mailer does spend money on the postage and the item mailed."

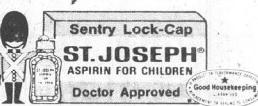

The result — mail's becoming more descriptive offers, fund-raising appeals, free samples and countless other varieties of what is commonly referred to as "junk mail."

Town caucuses adjourn without action; election filing ends

Electors at Democratic and Republican caucuses in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships decided Tuesday night to end the year of the major political parties ended by any of the April 5 candidates for township offices.

The 40 persons gathered in the Nameoki Township garage for that town's caucus decided to end the year of the major political parties ended by any of the April 5 candidates for township offices.

No electors appeared in the Nameoki Township garage for that town's caucus.

In Nameoki Township, candidates for the Continued Action Party will oppose candidates of the United for Progress Party.

Continued Action Party candidates are: supervisor — Louis Whitsell, 3 Westgate Drive, incumbent; Town clerk — Louis "Cookie" Zeoff Jr., 89 Main St., Madison, and highway commissioner — Frank Meibach, Rural Route One, Box 110, Tax collector — Freida Ballew, 74 Maurene Avenue, Tax assessor — Loren L. Madison, 3817 "B" St.

Although neither the Democrats nor the Republicans will have candidates on the township ballots in April, there are party slates under other names running in both Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

About 15 Democrats were at the Chouteau Democratic caucus. They elected Al Durr as chairman and then voted not to endorse either of the competing slates. The caucus then adjourned.

No electors appeared

Tuesday afternoon for the Venice Township Republican caucus. Several electors from Venice Township decided to endorse any candidates and that caucus was quickly adjourned.

The Nameoki Republicans made the same decision in a smaller gathering. Only one Republican appeared at the

Pets need homes, shelter to close

The six-month reprieve granted by the U.S. Army to the Association for Protection of Animals (APA) before its pet shelter must be vacated is drawing close and 11 cats still need homes.

Mrs. Mary Ann Loftus, APA secretary, said the group has designated the week of Feb. 12-13 as "our last big effort to find homes for the 11 cats."

"Since we may have to shelter completely enclosed of all equipment and accessories by March 10, we need the remaining time to remove the things after the animals are gone," she said.

The APA officer continued, "For this reason, any cats left after Feb. 13 will have to be put to the dog pound or be put to sleep."

APA members will be at the shelter on the Granite City Army Installation from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, and from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 13.

"We have several affectionate and pretty cats who need to find good homes," Mrs. Loftus stated.

Persons interested in obtaining a cat will be invited to the shelter during the weekend hours may call 877-4594 to make an appointment.

"We are hoping to find homes for every animal so that none will have to suffer, and are appealing to cat lovers in the community to help us," the APA officer said.

Among the cats being offered for adoption are:

A tan, a year-old, grey and cream female, "very lovable"; Joe, 18-month-old neutered brown tabby with white, "playful, but independent"; and a white, orange and black 2-year-old female, "timid and needs spayed"; a brown tiger-striped female, 1-year-old, "very friendly".

A white, orange and black 2-year-old female, "lovable and needs a quiet home"; Snake, a spayed grey and cream long-haired female, "timid because of past trauma".

Misty, long-haired grey 2-year-old female, "very independent"; Kitty, 2-year-old neutered male orange and white, "very large and loves people".

Rags, gold and grey tortoise-shell female, 2 years old, "very lovable but doesn't like other cats"; a mostly black female with a little white, "loves great eyes, friendly"; and a playful brown tiger-striped female with some white and orange.

The present shelter was established at the Granite City

Army installation as part of a youth program, but the youth group which included the APA lost its sponsor.

The Army had given the humane group several months to relocate the animals left in its care. However, no new shelter could be found.

Last September, the military authorities granted the APA an extension in March.

Mrs. Loftus said the group is continuing with plans to construct a new shelter, but "it is moving slowly, partially, due to lack of funds."

Other problems beset the organization in building a decent, alternate home for unwanted pets.

A tract of ground has been offered by a member, but title is not yet clear and details, such as zoning requirements and getting an access road to the property, have not yet been finalized.

Several fund-raising projects are planned for the spring and summer months to help construct a new shelter, Mrs. Loftus said.

A fund to finance the construction will be held at the shelter during the weekend hours may call 877-4594 to make an appointment.

The new governor, James Thompson, and Gilbert is his press secretary — a job he almost didn't take.

Thompson team—Press secretary no 'yes man'

Editor's Note: This article is one of a series which will appear periodically on the new Thompson administration's top posts.

By BOB ESTILL

SPRINGFIELD — Dave Gilbert is an amiable guy who thinks a big part of his job is to disserve the new chief.

The new governor, James Thompson, and Gilbert is his press secretary — a job he almost didn't take.

"So we got together and talked, and I liked where he was coming from. He asked if I was interested, and I said yes."

At Thompson's suggestion, two weeks earlier, telephone to ask if Gilbert was interested in becoming his press secretary.

The response was negative, but Gilbert agreed to have lunch with Thompson and discuss the job.

"I always had been interested in Thompson and had watched him as U.S. attorney — a job he almost didn't take.

"Gilbert was sitting at his desk at the Chicago Tribune in mid-July of 1975 when he announced his candidacy two weeks earlier, telephoned to ask if Gilbert was interested in becoming his press secretary.

The response was negative, but Gilbert agreed to have lunch with Thompson and discuss the job.

"One thing that impressed me about Jim Thompson as U.S. attorney was that, regardless of what you think about him, he always got results," Gilbert recalls.

"He took a rather sleepy U.S. attorney's office and turned it into the number-one-rated U.S. attorney's office in the nation."

Another thing Gilbert said he discovered in the two-week check-out was that Thompson surrounded himself with people he could trust to tell him if they thought he was making a mistake.

"As he said, he had 72 'no' men — there wasn't a 'yes' man in the group," Gilbert recalls.

That fit groove-in-groove with Gilbert's concept of the press secretary's role.

"The important thing is that in the administration we have to be able to disagree," Gilbert said.

"It's not going to be a relationship where I sit back and say everything Jim Thompson says is right and I nod my head to the chief; I just don't work that way; I don't work that way."

One of the major areas where they have disagreed is on the issue of tax cuts for legislators and elected officials, which Thompson supported while calling generally for a "year of sacrifice" — a statement that drew criticism from Republicans and Democrats.

"I told him in so many uncertain terms that I didn't think he should have taken that position," Gilbert says.

Thompson backed away from the position, saying he thought pay increases are needed but the timing might not be right.

Gilbert doesn't see his job as buffer or shield between Thompson and the news media.

Thompson enjoys the "give and take" of his relationship with the media, and will be accessible, Gilbert said.

Gilbert, who covered politics and transportation for the Chicago Tribune, has a few ideas of his own about the best way to deal with the news media.

"The guidelines I've set up for governing my job are based on the things that made me angry when I was a reporter," he said. "I want accessibility to the governor or to the person I was trying to get information from, not being afraid to get information, and, probably most important, not getting telephone calls returned. That's the biggest sin in the book."

"Jim has characterized the Republican Party as open and the image is 'we'll call you.' I think that applies to the governor, too. Public officials who take that attitude with the media have to put the price."

There's another sin he says he will avoid — lying to the news media.

"I don't think a press secretary ever should lie deliberately," Gilbert said.

"He's caught in a misunderstanding, but if I would like deliberately, I think I should be replaced."

Gilbert is generally regarded as an honest guy with political acumen.

"He's a good talker," said one former associate. "He sure won't lie. He may try to do what that goes along with the job."

When not on the job, Gilbert probably can be found this summer on Lake Springfield. He's been sailing for nine years and will be bringing his wife along.

In addition to his work, he likes true adventure tales — not surprisingly stories about sailing or survival.

His musical tastes vary from Beethoven to rock music, and he plays and "plays along on a guitar, much to the chagrin of friends."

"The only type of music I don't like are Muzak, grocery store music and sport music," he said.

"I like 'rap' sessions with friends — 36-year-old bachelors who have 'old school friends,' no steady girl friend and no plans to 'settle down.'

For the future, he doesn't know what he would want to go along if favorable winds should carry Thompson to the White House.

Right now, he's only thinking two years ahead and isn't hunting for a snug harbor in Chesapeake Bay.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK

The intake of sweets, particularly sweet snacks, should be limited.

Prevention of dental disease requires the teamwork of dental health professionals and the public. The full and informed participation of the patient, however, is necessary to control the day-to-day buildup of bacterial plaque.

AN INTERESTING Denists no longer advocate brushing "up" on the town, down the mouth, to clean the teeth. This is a sticky, colorless film, continuously forming on the teeth which provides a haven for increased bacterial growth. The combination of bacteria and sugar, mostly from highly sugared snacks, produces acid which eats away the teeth.

If both toothbrushing and flossing effectively may be difficult for younger children, Flossing, especially, until a child is nine or ten. Until a child can do it right, parents should do it.

HOW DO YOU tell if flossing is effective? By use of a disclosing solution. This comes in pills which you can chew up, or in a fluid form. The solution leads to staining of the teeth where there is plaque. No stains where there isn't. The stains go away in a few hours, or sooner, after brushing the teeth.

Taxpayers Ask

Q. I visited an IRS office, and requested an application for an employer identification number because I'm starting a new business. While there, I was given some information in the form of a kit containing a booklet on the obligation to file returns. Is this a special procedure of the IRS?

A. Most materials you received are general publications called "Your Business Tax Kit," Publication 4544, that is compiled for each new businessperson who applies for an employer identification number. It contains a lot of good information for your business, but it is a routine and important procedure for the IRS to provide individual tax information to persons applying for business because each individual may require different tax information.

Usually, the package is presented by an IRS representative with a booklet on how to handle either at an IRS office, at the taxpayer's place of business, or at the taxpayer's home.

Q. Robbers broke into my home and stole my personal items worth about $500. They were not insured. How much of this loss can I claim as a deduction on my Federal income tax return?

A. At the new governor's request, several dozen dentists will observe the 29th annual National Children's Dental Health Week Feb. 6-12 by stressing ways to improve youngsters' dental care procedures.

At the new governor's request, several dozen dentists will observe the 29th annual National Children's Dental Health Week Feb. 6-12 by stressing ways to improve youngsters' dental care procedures.

In addition, if requested by the IRS, you must be able to prove that you sustained a loss.

Comment and analysis

High court asked to accept sewer case and rule promptly

The Illinois Supreme Court will be asked in a soon-to-be filed motion to agree to accept for direct consideration the appeal of a Third Circuit Court decision upholding the Madison County Special Service Area One Sanitary sewer installation program.

This is welcome news that the high court will agree to take the case from the Appellate Court level, since it involves a matter of immediate statewide concern — whether the law permitting special service area taxation is constitutional. The circuit-level decision said the law is valid, but as a practical matter the opponents' appeal would still be from the implementation.

In addition to accepting the case for review, the Illinois Supreme Court could perform an outstanding public service by expediting the appeal and defense procedures so that a final verdict can be rendered soon rather than in the summer or fall.

The $17 million sewer plan is of vital importance to the Quad-City area, particularly the future of Nameoki and Chouteau towns. For health and other viewpoints, it is essential that the project be carried out. On-target construction bids have been obtained and cannot indefinitely be delayed.

It would be a severe shock to public confidence in Illinois governmental processes if the time factor alone proved to be the deciding factor in the project's life or death, rather than the merits of the state law and the sewer project.

There are many precedents for special speed by the top Illinois court, including its ruling on the December 1972 law that would have divided the East Side Levee and Sanitary District here.

In fairness to the Illinois Supreme Court, it cannot act on matters not actually before it. Our comment does not imply there has been delay; but it does urge the fastest appropriate action.

It is asked to accept the sewer case. And, if it is accepted, we urge that speedier than usual steps be taken, including maximum cooperation by participating attorneys in utilizing minimum time spans for the various phases of their efforts.

Withdrawal of the appeal by opponents would be in the public interest, including that of our own.

Temporary "solutions" to sanitary sewage disposal, such as some lagoons, have time limits in the Nameoki-Chouteau sector. A direct sewage system link to primary-secondary treatment facilities is badly needed. The cost of the proposed state-aided sewer installation could dwarfed by varied financial options on Quad-City's present Service Area Outcomes is thwarted.

Because class-action suits almost have a life of their own, it is possible that withdrawal may not occur, although this would be unfortunate. Those appealing, ignoring the imperative need for sewers, are gambling with matters that could severely harm the health and usefulness of not only their own property but that of the whole Chouteau-Nameoki region.

In any event, the constructive attitude of Illinois Supreme Court justices could prove to be of immense benefit to the Quad-Cities and to other Illinois communities where sewer needs or similar problems are unresolved.

Many local organizations utilize the Boy Scout program

Six years after the Boy Scouts of America — now often called Scouting-USA — began in this country Feb. 8, 1910, the Congress of the United States granted a charter on June 15, 1916, to the young organization.

Both Congress and scouting's founders agreed on a principle that has made scouting the success it is today.

The Congressional act states: "That the purpose of this corporation shall be to promote, through organization, and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in scouting, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues, using the methods which are now in common use by Boy Scouts."

The key words, "cooperation with other agencies," recognized the values of offering the scouting programs to community organizations to use as a part of their own youth work.

Now, nationally and locally, scouting has been adopted by many national and local religious, school, service, fraternal, civic, labor and business groups.

Concerned over GC Steel layoffs

To the Editor:
If Lloyd McBride is a top-notch negotiator, then please explain why he has laid off about 500 employees at Granite City Steel, and approximately 50,000 are laid off nationwide.

We read concerning the new steel and the Mill power as well, that Granite City Steel is breaking production records.

Granite City Steel is spending millions of dollars on construction work and routine maintenance as well as work in the unemployment lines. Surely, the contract provides for plant United Steelworkers of America workers to work before outside crafts are and job shops.

If not, maybe McBride and his staff are not qualified for president of USWA or any other union office.

I believe we should first contact our USWA members before we give away all of our work and conditions.

On one schedule in the 80-inch Hot Strip, they work two eight-hour shifts and a six-hour shift per week. This causes one complete shift to be laid off.

What union man in his right mind would agree to any such schedule, where his brothers are laid off? Union men are born for the job, not the gravy.

Another thing until Sadowski announced his candidacy for president, he was not called a "Communist."

It is time for the official family to get out of the offices, and let in some new and invigorating blood.

Such bloodthirsty flows to the Southern Cross. This team compiles more than 100 years of experience and leadership.

Also, of all the USWA team are U.S. military veterans.

We have heard that Sadowski was present and, may I say, that never has he spoken of wanting to eliminate steelworkers' jobs.

Instead, he spoke of wanting to protect them.

Also, the local media can attest, he has never refused to answer any and all questions asked of him.

These meetings were open to the public so if there was any doubt where he stands, all anyone had to do was to ask.

When USWA Vice-President Candidate Marvin Weinstein was in town, he told the media that union members are always to be held in high esteem.

But when McBride receives donations this is supposed to be all right. Baloney.

I believe that for the first time, the major steel companies in the U.S. made a substantial price increase.

My final point is a very simple one. When the smoke clears and the name-calling is over, win or lose, I hope you will realize that as far as the public is concerned, we are Red-baiting, misleading the members and public.

Enshrine equality in U. S. Constitution

To the Editor:

Section I: Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

Section II: The Congress shall have the power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

Section III: This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of its adoption.

"All men are created equal."

The Declaration of Independence, signed 200 years ago, announced the revolutionary ideas to the world that governments derive their powers "from the consent of the governed" and that "all men are created equal."

The founding fathers did not translate these ideas full blown into the Constitution in 1789 and, in any event, did not have women in mind when they wrote "the consent of the governed."

It has left the states to establish voting requirements.

Slaves, Indians, the mentally unfit, criminals and women were generally denied the right to vote.

It was almost 150 years before the 19th Amendment to the Constitution included women among the governed whose consent was required.

The ERA specifically transfers authority to enact domestic relations laws, for example, to the federal government that could affect the minimum age higher than 18.

The states will still stick to their own relations laws, but they cannot make distinctions based on sex. They can make distinctions based on function, such as homemaking.

There is every reason to ratify the ERA. The need for it is clear. The legislative history gives a sound basis for interpretation.

And a clear majority of Americans have said repeatedly that all people should be full citizens with legal equality.

State eliminating its military scholarships

To the Editor:

It seems apparent that every nation has its share of public unrest. In days of rapid change, nothing seems to change.

When change does come, the average citizen is usually left in a worse state of affairs than before the change.

Our school systems are racing toward bankruptcy. State and local funding is being null and void. Government employees raise their salaries and judicial functions open the eyes of blind justice.

In 1919, the State of Illinois created the Illinois military scholarship, which, when enacted, enabled veterans to attend state-funded universities. The state was bestowing an honor upon its experienced veterans, the participants in a world war.

I am certain that no one would argue that the veterans of World War I were not deserving of the scholarship. The same holds true for the veterans of World War II and the Korean era.

Many men died in all three wars, and many more lived to honor those lost.

But we have forgotten one other war and, perhaps, by choice are trying to forget its veterans.

After 58 years of existence, the state is abolishing the Illinois military scholarship.

Not only are veterans losing funding, but they are being blamed for the state going bankrupt.

Are we to believe that the 55,000 persons using said scholarship are bankrupting the entire state? I think not.

As a Vietnam era veteran, who served in an undeclared war which has generally been accepted as unjust, is none-the-less as deserving of financial assistance as any veteran of any war.

The program being lost requires $12.5 million to operate equally and efficiently. Former Governor Walker appropriated $6.5 million, thus leaving the administration to deal with a deficit.

Governor Thompson, when campaigning, stated that veterans' educational programs were a top priority.

Perhaps he should call the governor one of the few politicians to ever carry through on campaign promises, for one of his first actions was in dealing with this "top priority."

Gov. Thompson moved for total elimination of the scholarship, saying, "If the veterans' scholarship bill of $6 million passes in the spring, the

Emphasize principles of unionism

To the Editor:

As the Feb. 8 United Steelworkers of America election grows near, media campaigning is growing more vicious and malignant.

The McBride team supporters' "dirty-slitting" and "Red-baiting" tactics are cutting deep and ripping the union membership apart.

Trade unionists are to make room for smear tactics and political ploys against fellow union brothers.

The extremes will bring the McBride team reach to bring home this election.

Are irreparable wounds in our great union a just price for the McBride team election?

Members believing they have the right to question, or challenge, the "official family" of the USWA staff representative, feathered their unit.

I think about the conditions in the plants, the loss of jobs in just the last five years in District 34 under McBride's representation, and your right to vote in elections and on contracts. These are real issues.

The USWA membership needs the ideas, motivation and strength through unity that the Sadowski slate can provide. I urge support of unionism and the Sadowski slate on Feb. 8.

McBride not hand-picked by Abel

To the Editor:

Ed Sadowski and his supporters have attempted to brand Lloyd McBride as the "hand-picked" candidate of I. W. Abel for president of the Steelworkers union.

This is not true. It is the sound principles of trade unionism that the membership in a union that for so long has held democracy high.

We continue to lose sight of the sound principles of trade unionism.

The truth of the matter is that Lloyd McBride and his running mates became the leading candidates and received the overwhelming support of Steelworker officers only after demonstrating strong support among local union officers and members across the country.

It is to his credit that he was able to convince those who opposed him to support his candidacy for this high office.

I. W. Abel announced his support for Lloyd McBride only weeks ago, following the nominating process.

Long service at local steel plant

To the Editor:

I have been a steelworker for over 28 years at Granite City Steel.

I supported and voted for Ed Sadowski before during the international Steelworkers nominations because of my personal conviction that he should be allowed to seek the office of president of our international union.

And a clear majority of Americans have said repeatedly that all people should be full citizens with legal equality.

To enshrine in the Constitution the moral judgment that sex discrimination is wrong.

It is every reason to ratify the ERA.

To the Editor:

Due to the extensive news coverage of the approaching Steelworkers union election, those of us who are members of the union can best gauge the caliber of the candidates and appropriate to come from the election propaganda.

Ed Sadowski has been telling us he was a "rank and file" candidate running on a platform of "no to the picket line."

None of these people ever belonged to a union or walked a picket line.

All members of the Steelworkers union are working for Sadowski and these wealthy "outsiders" have teamed up to take control of our Union.

What do they expect to gain in return for their investment? What is their interest in the union?

I just don't believe Steelworkers are going to be fooled by Sadowski and his millionaire supporters and their high-profile union positions.

Outsiders seeking to control union

To the Editor:

Due to a court suit filed by Lloyd McBride, Sadowski has now had to disclose the source of his contributions.

Thousands of dollars have been contributed by wealthy business and employers at exclusive cocktail parties.

Impressed by door-to-door campaign

To the Editor:

Braving the icy winds, snow and sub-zero weather, Dan Partney, candidate for mayor of Granite City, has for three weeks been plodding from house to house.

He has been calling on the citizens of this fine city to present himself to those who know him and to those who don't. He is presenting what he plans to do as mayor.

He has been home this cold Saturday, Jan. 29, in the Sixth Ward, as had been visiting homes all week. He was a most convincing guest.

No colder weather will dampen the spirit, determination, aggressiveness and definition of purpose young Dan has.

He was warmly received by the people he visited, in addition to the warmth of their homes in the terribly cold weather we are

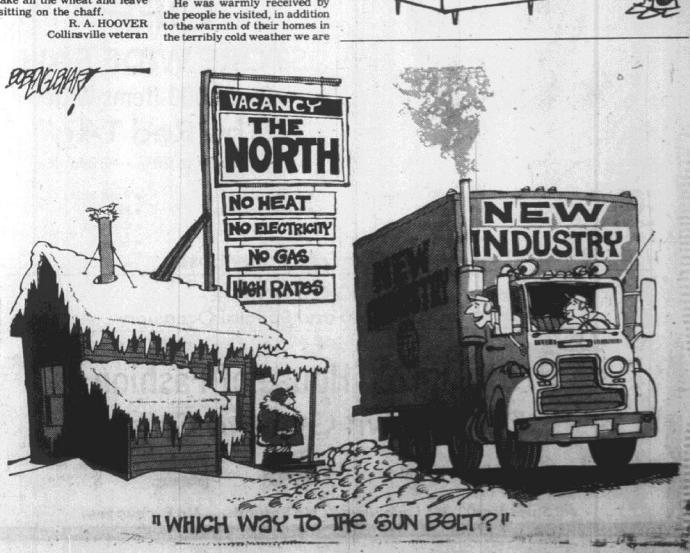

Just as he braves the miserable weather and continues on, we will do the same for our next mayor, taking on the problems of the city—rain, snow or shine.

January coldest in 37 years

Quad-Cityans experienced the month's most bitter cold and snowy January in 37 years and the second coldest in 140 years, with a promise of still more bad weather to come during February.

While total snowfall of 24.2 inches was recorded in the area during the month, weather records at the Chain of Rocks location show only 14.1 inches of precipitation, or six inches below the 19.8-inch normal for the month.

January 1940 was 14.6. The normal average is 31.3 degrees.

The average temperature for December and January was 24.2 degrees, making it the coldest December-January period in history, surpassing the 22.8 average of December 1917, and January 1918, the weather service said.

Temperature records at the Chain of Rocks locks, which are maintained for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, show that the density of the snow as to moisture varied considerably, with Jan. 2, three inches of snow fall, with 10 of an inch precipitation, while on Jan. 4 another three inches of snow fell, with .15 of an inch precipitation.

Ten days later, six inches of snow fell throughout the area, but the moisture density was only .10 of an inch, according to the gauges at the locks.

Snow also fell in the Quad-City area on Jan. 13, 14, 20, 23, 24, 26 and 27, with 10 to 12 inches of snow at the locks on Jan. 2, 15, 16, 18 and 19.

Precipitation of 1.02 inches for the month was .56 of an inch more than normal in January of 1976, when .46 of an inch precipitation fell in this area.

Lack of university gym affects Cougar record

By AL BARNES
SIUE Sports

Information Director

The story dramatically of failure and success of current Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team.

Coach Jim Dudley's SIUE Cougar cagers have racked up pluses in every category but one in building their 6-9 record.

The only minus category in the Cougars' record is for the charity line, as to accuracy of opportunities.

At the charity line, the Cougars are shooting a disappointing .657 average as compared to their opponents' .677.

More revealing than that, however, is the number of shots that the Cougars have been awarded at the free throw line—their 245 shots, compared to the 316 chances foes have received.

Therein is probably the biggest reason for the Cougars' long string to date. In their 15 games, they have played only two at home.

In all but one of their losses, Dudley's charges have outshot their opponents from the floor but have been beaten at the foul line by a wide margin.

Still leading the UIUC scoring attack is Kell Peebles, the 5-9 guard from Johnston City. The deadeye marksmen sophomore is hitting at a .58.3 clip.

The Cougars are outshooting their opponents from the floor by a healthy margin, .458 to .418, and are outscoring their foes by a solid 74.5 to 62.5.

Now with the bulk of the remaining games scheduled for their "home court," the Edwardsville High gym, Cougar cage hopes may take an upward jump.

Motorcyclist Rod Hartzel honored

Rod Hartzel, 17, a senior at GCHS North and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lile Hartzel, 109 Cypress Lane, was honored at awards banquet of American Motorcycle Association District 18 in Belleville for having finished first in point standings during the 1976 motorcycle racing season.

The youthful rider topped competitors from both Missouri and Illinois in six events and one championship race, in addition to finishing consistently in the top three positions in other events.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT is made by Warrior John Slay (30) to block this shot by Rodney Wortham (42) of the North Steelers during second-quarter play Saturday night. Wortham garnered 12 points in the annual contest between North and South. North won 63-45.

nents' shoulders to the mat possibly could not withstand the grueling grind of going a full six minutes in a bout of physical work."

Presbyterian
aid project

The Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, is responding in positive programs to combat world hunger by distributing small coin containers shaped like a miniature loaf of bread called a "love loaf", according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor.

This will be kept on the dinner tables, explained Pastor Pierson, as a reminder that while we have much, others have little or nothing to eat. I think it's important that parents can teach their children the basic human compassion. As the family prays for the world's needy, they can also put coins in the love loaf each day. The small child can participate with his penny which will provide a week's supply of vitamins and a dime will provide someone with a full meal."

The small banks will hold aside $10 in coins which we are trying to modernize in the Jesus feeding of the 5,000, Rev. Pierson added. "Love loaf Sunday" will be observed on Sunday following Easter when the bank will turn over the church. Proceeds will be divided between the emergency relief ministry of World Vision International and Emergency Hunger Programs of the United Presbyterian Church. There will be an international cooperative support of child-care programs, emergency relief, medical assistance, and community development in over 26 countries including the United States, the minister added.

Prior to the distribution of the "love loaves" a film strip will be shown on world hunger at Sunday's morning worship service. Americans want to help feed starving people at home and overseas but don't know how, according to Rev. Pierson. We believe we have found a way for Americans to respond in the Christian manner to the needs of the less fortunate," he added.

Special tax credits to $400

It's not easy to make ends meet these days. And it's especially hard for low-income Americans.

Fortunately, there's good news again this year for millions of people who can use a little extra help at tax time. An extended tax credit makes it possible for more people to take advantage of the special tax credit of up to $400 for low-income families that was first introduced in the Internal Revenue Service.

The credit will be kept on the dinner tables, explained Pastor Pierson, as a reminder that while we have much, others have little or nothing to eat. I think it's important that parents can teach their children the basic human compassion. As the family prays for the world's needy, they can also put coins in the love loaf each day. The small child can participate with his penny which will provide a week's supply of vitamins and a dime will provide someone with a full meal."

student, as a dependent to claim the credit. For instance, one member of a divorced couple may claim their child as a dependent, while the other maintains a home for the child and is entitled to the credit.

But married, a man and woman must file a joint return.

Only one credit per couple is allowed. A taxpayer and spouse cannot individually claim credit simply because each had an income under the $8,000 limit.

For example, a married couple with three children and two incomes, his $6,000 and hers $4,000, would not qualify. Even if the two children earn less than $8,000, they must file a joint return and their resulting combined income puts them over the $8,000 limit.

You must have paid over half the cost of keeping up a home (owned or rented) for the entire year, and have a least one of your children under age 19, or (a) under 19 years of age, or (b) a full-time student, or (c) disabled and your dependent.

What is earned income? This question caused some confusion among taxpayers here. Is a breakdown of what does not count what does not count. Wages, salaries, (after any applicable disability, union, excise), tips, and other forms of employee compensation and net earnings from self-employment count as earned income. Monies received from interest, dividends, pensions and annuities are not considered earned income for the purpose of this credit.

Other requirements also raised questions among eligible taxpayers last year. A taxpayer does not have to be married to qualify. Divorced, widowed, or single persons who satisfy the income and child in home requirements are also eligible. Under the new law, one doesn't have to be entitled to claim a child under 19, or a dependent line of the tax form.

The maximum credit is 10 percent of the first $4,000 of earned income, the highest credit being $400. A person who earned in excess of $4,000 must reduce his or her credit by 10 percent of the amount over $4,000. In other words, the tax credit is over $4,000, the less credit there will be. The credit on $5,000 is $300.

on $6,000 is $200; on $7,000 it's $100. The credit phasing out zero at the $8,000 income level.

Here's how a typical Earned Income Credit might be figured. During 1976 you received wages of $4,500. You file a joint return with your spouse to qualify the child in home requirement. Your credit would be $350. This is computed by subtracting 10 percent of $300 (the amount by which the adjusted gross income of $4,500 exceeds the $4,000 minimum credit).

Another important credit will not be sent automatically just because a taxpayer is eligible; he must initiate the action himself by filing a Federal tax return.

The credit may come as a refund check or be applied against any taxes owed.

Earned Income Credit will not be sent automatically just because a taxpayer is eligible; he must initiate the action himself by filing a Federal tax return.

All gas cutbacks lifted on Tuesday

Illinois Power Company on Tuesday afternoon lifted all gas curtailments imposed Monday, and began informing individual and large commercial customers they could resume normal gas usage yesterday.

The 17 per cent curtailment for 270 industrial and large commercial customers was ordered as a precautionary measure Monday morning.

Moderation in the weather and favorable forecasts allow the curtailments to be lifted," C. W. Wells, executive vice-president of the company, said. "It is the companies which had been told to reduce boiler fuel use to 50 per cent as part of the curtailment were informed Tuesday morning they could go back to normal usages again, he said. "We are getting every day," Wells said. "The five-day forecast indicates continued moderate temperatures the rest of the week."

and the company feels it prudent to take off the restrictions for now. Illinois Power serves more than 350,000 gas customers in 15,000 square miles of Illinois. Until Monday, the company had served all firm gas customers during the extreme cold without curtailment. The curtailments did not apply to residences, schools or health care establishments.

Wells is urging all customers to continue voluntary gas conservation efforts, which he said have played an important part in maintaining gas service for the last month.

Companies affected by Tuesday morning's relaxation were: Corn Sweeteners, Inc., Granite City; Archer Daniels Midland Co., Granite City; A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co., Decatur; and Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., at Hennepin. Their large industrial boilers had been curtailed by 50 per cent.

Illinois Power, acting under the Illinois Commerce Commission on Monday cut by 17 per cent the natural gas deliveries to 270 industrial and high-use commercial customers.

In all cases, the usage cuts will be in effect until voluntary cutbacks by industries in response to conservation steps made by the utility.

"I cannot praise too highly the cooperation we have had from all classes of users, industrial, commercial and residential," Wells said. "That cooperation has helped to keep supplies available and helped prevent the massive job layoffs that have distressed other parts of the country."

"The strain on our system, including our eight underground storage tanks, has been critical, but the help we have received from our customers has enabled us thus far to maintain service in this extreme weather."

Three weeks ago began a public information program directed at conservation of natural gas. The state's Commerce Commission for emergency authority to enforce the large user curtailments in steps if necessary. The petition was granted last Friday, Jan. 28.

The petition specifically excluded schools and health care facilities from curtailment. No residential curtailment was contemplated, Wells stressed.

Of the over 350,000 customers, 360 are base-volume customers — firms customers who are on a monthly allotment for gas.

The exemption for schools and health care facilities applied to 116 of them, leaving the 270 with the order to cut 17 per cent, now rescinded.

There are six customers in the large boiler classification, two of whom are educational and health institutions, plus the four plants listed.

Wells said gas savings from the 17 per cent program would be about 100 million cubic feet a day.

Future cold waves may require new cutbacks, he emphasized.

3 advance in opera auditions

Katherine Harrison, a student at Principia College, is the first-place winner of the Southern Illinois area Metropolitan Opera auditions held during the weekend at Saint Louis University at Edwardsville. Miss Harrison is a soprano.

To capture first place in the competition, she performed the "Quartet" solo from the opera "La Boheme" by Puccini; "Doh vieni, non tardar," from Le Norze di Figaro by Mozart; Menotti's "Up in the Sky"; Mozart's "Batti, Batti"; and Gounod's "Ah, mesme." Jo Anne活力 from Romeo et Juliette.

Third place was won by Jeff Carney, a baritone from SIU at Carbondale.

Twenty-one vocalists entered the competition, which was sponsored by the SIUE Department of Music and the SIUE Friends of Music. The three top finishers will advance to Midwest regional competition in Chicago Feb. 22 and 23.

STOPS THEFT ATTEMPT An employee of the Kroger Food Store, Nameoki Village Shopping Center, walked out of the store at 1:15 p.m. Monday and saw a man in the truck of the store supervisor, Roger Thorne, 30, of Edwardsville. When the man saw the employee, he left the truck, walked around to the rear of the truck, got into a dark Oldsmobile Toronado and drove from the scene. The truck's left wing window had been shattered. The attempted was made to punch out the ignition switch. The man was described as 40 to 45 years of age and having a small build.

30 seek 11 GC posts in April 5 election

Thirty candidates will seek election to 11 city offices in the April 5 Granite City municipal election with opposition for every office, according to candidate filings completed Monday afternoon at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The candidates still are subject to a withdrawal period through Saturday morning. Stevens said no office will be open from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday to accept withdrawal notices from anyone who may decide by that time to get out of the race.

Finally also included two candidates for the office of Granite City Township supervisor, while the incumbent township assessor, Von Dee Cruse, has no opposition. Cruse is the only one of the 33 candidates filing nominating petitions with the city clerk to run unopposed.

The township election is held at the same time as the city election, using the same polling places.

In the city election, Incumbent Paul Ruttledge is seeking another four-year term.

Steve Stevens, a first-term alderman from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday to accept withdrawal notices from anyone who may decide by that time to get out of the race.

"Nothing tastes quite as good as a slab of home baked bread, freshly taken from the oven, slathered with butter and jam. Sound like an impossibility in this day and age? It isn't."

"You, too, can learn to bake bread in just a few weeks," an SIUE Office of Continuing Education spokesman says.

Classes on bread baking will begin Feb. 15 and continue through March 15, Tuesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at 1515 at Edwardsville High School.

Registration for the five-week course is $15. Students are to furnish all their baking equipment and supplies.

Students will learn how to bake a different type of bread each week, according to Dr. Vasil Vasileff, instructor for the course. He is an associate professor in the SIUE School of Dental Medicine.

Participants will try their hands at making white, rye and wheat bread. On the final evening, the students will have a choice of baking either oatmeal or a seasoned bread, Dr. Vasileff said.

Ambulances

provided ambulatory facilities, the cost would have to be borne by the patients which the ambulances served.

He therefore feels that it would be unfair to impose this burden upon the patients of the hospital," the mayor said.

The mayor said the hospital assured the city of "full cooperation" in training paramedics in regular Emergency Medical Training to operate city ambulances.

In response to this phase of the mayor's statement, Alderman said members of the Sixth Ward criticized the hospital for what he said is a "failure to give us anything we ask of them."

"They told the mayor:

"What you are saying is that the hospital told us to go buy a new car and it will teach us how to drive. St. Elizabeth Hospital with its financial endowments from all Button funds and other revenue has never done anything for the city. All the hospital does is take, take, take. To me, this is all a lot of posturing."

Parmenter believed the hospital owes the community the responsibility of providing service to the people, and that ambulance service should be a part of the hospital's prime responsibility.

Without exception, aldermen who spoke on the proposal to provide city-operated ambulances recognized the need of such a service in one way or another, but some instances questioned the city's financial ability to operate such a service. Some aldermen have indicated requirements of up to 11 men operating four ambulances at a cost of more than $200,000 a year.

Fire Chief Don Parente, however, presented Tuesday night a detailed estimate of city operation for the first year, including the purchase of four ambulances for which the city is expected to obtain a 70 per cent discount.

Parente's report said that the estimated cost of operation for the first year would total about $135,891 against a potential revenue of $146,000. Anticipated revenue, the report said, included $10,000 in grants as a grant for ambulance purchase, and $90,000 in income in fees for ambulance operation.

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fifth Ward told the council "I can't understand why the hospital should refuse to bear some responsibility. Perhaps this is a matter of just a couple of people talking about it, but I think we could set up a committee and head back to the hospital for further talks with more of those in authority."

Decatur said he believed Fire Chief Parente's report "is a good one," but said he believes the total cost would run "higher than that."

Clyde Boyd, alderman of the Third Ward, emphasized that the City Council "has a responsibility to the people. We need to look at the costs but we also should look at what we owe the people."

He said, "I don't think I've ever heard anyone talk about costs 'given us a good idea of what we will have to pay. I can't see the need of delay. If Granite City could build a $12 million sewage treatment plant, I'm sure it can provide an ambulance service program."

Alderman Curtis Blevins of

SIEUE LOWERS THERMOSTATS. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, dons a scarf and directs Jim Johnson, SIEUE chief utilities engineer, to turn down the thermostat in the president's office to 64 degrees. It was the first of more than 4,000 thermostat settings to be lowered on the campus Monday to help meet the national weather crisis. University Health Service assured Dr. Shaw that students and faculty can operate normally and maintain health in a lowered-temperature environment if dressed more warmly than usual. Consolidation of activities, closing of some buildings and proposed use of oil as an alternate fuel, should gas resources be cut off, are among measures being taken by SIEUE administrators to keep the university open.

Mrs. Costello, 83, dies

The Fifth Ward said "This is a service we are going to have to provide — we can't back away from it."

Steve Basarich, alderman of the Fifth Ward, criticized the council "quibbling over the issue ... we're going to have a public week after week, the six weeks (before the deadline) are going to be gone and we won't be ready for it. And if we're not ready, we'll be in trouble."

In response to a remark that the city had been "put on the spot" by the move by Thomas Ambulance Service to discontinue emergency services, Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, told the aldermen, "We are not on the spot. If there isn't any ambulance service on March 15, anyone on the spot will be Thomas Ambulance Service."

It is common that the issue had political involvement was made by Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward. He said, "I hate to feel this way about it, but I think this matter is a bit political."

"Why didn't they do this (out of service) before? They seem to want to put the council on a spot, and they have done it. It is unusual for us to have this notice at this time."

Parmenter questioned the city's ability to get ambulances in time to meet the deadline, but Parente told the council that he had discussed the matter with

Mrs. Winifred Costello, 83, of Granite City, died at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Columbia, Mo., Nursing Home, Columbia, Mo. Mrs. Costello resided here most of her life before moving in April 1976 to make her home with a daughter, Mrs. A. R. Bollinger, 813 Fairway Drive, Columbia, Mo.

Mrs. Costello was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Granite City and a past president of American Legion Auxiliary, Post 113 and a past president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

She and her husband, Harry

Costello Sr., who is deceased, were married on April 20, 1912. Other than her daughter, she had three brothers, Harry Costello of Granite City, and three grandchildren, a son, Maurice Costello, and a daughter, Miss Grace Costello, preceded her in death.

Chill day in Madison changed

The Madison-Venice Rotary Club has postponed its Chill Day scheduled Feb. 23, and plans to reschedule the event during the latter part of March, according to W. F. "Mick" Strange, club president.

The change was announced at the Wednesday noon meeting of the M-V Rotary Club in the Madison Recreational Center.

The reason for the change in date, according to Strange, is that Feb. 23 is Ash Wednesday and people of the Roman Catholic faith must abstain from eating meat.

Ray Edwards installed Met Petrol, operator of Madison Iron and Metal Co., 1400 Sixth St., Madison, as a new member.

Members were reminded that reservations are due for the club's ladies' night at the Plantation Theater on Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Venice cuts fire loss

Fire losses in Venice fell by $2,175 to a total of $41,000 during 1976, as compared to losses in 1975, a report to the Venice City Council by the fire department showed Tuesday night.

The reduction is a drop of 35.1 per cent and cut the city's per capita fire loss from $13.44 in 1975 to $8.72 in 1976, the report showed.

The council was told that there were 170 fire calls during the year, compared to 167 during 1975. Losses did not include industrial and railroad property, the report said.

Fire calls in 1976 included: 28 to dwellings, 15 industrial, 54 grass and trash, 21 cars and trucks, six false alarms, 25 calls out of town and rescue calls and four shed fires.

The arrest report for December 1976 showed a total of 29 arrests. 18 men and six women, all under 21 years of age, adults and two juveniles. A total of $344 was received in fines from the circuit clerk's office.

The McKinley Bridge report showed 185,360 vehicles crossed the bridge during January. This is a decrease of 400 vehicles a day from January 1975.

According to Duane S.

Wheeler, director of public works, the weather during January is believed to be the major cause of the reduction.

First Ward Alderman E.

Hazel Boone presided at the meeting. Mayor William M.

Ebersold is at home recuperating from an illness.

Winter of '77 worse than in '35, Rotarians told

The winter of 1977 is 20 per cent worse than the winter of 1935, according to Carl Mathias, service area manager of the Illinois Power Company in Chicago.

Mathias spoke at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club in the YMCA.

Mathias said this winter is to date 20 per cent worse than the average winter over the past 25 years.

Stressing gas conservation, Mathias has asked the public to turn thermostats as low as possible yet remain comfortable.

Mathias said that elderly persons need to have their homes warmer and should not endanger their health.

Industries were asked to reduce usage by 10 per cent and commercial users were asked to cut down on the hours of operation, Mathias said. The reduction requests were withdrawn later, however.

Mathias noted that the Illinois Power Co. has eight storage fields costing $22 million which allow the company to serve its customers with little inconvenience.

Reduced bids will be accepted until 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 25. At that time, all bids received will be publicly opened and read in the Business Office, Office of General Services Administration, Room 3670, 230 S. Dearborn St., Chicago 60604, where bid forms are available.

Severe weather delays car license deadline to March 1

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon on Tuesday extended the Feb. 15 deadline for displaying 1977 license plates to March 1—the latest date permitted by law.

Because of hardships the unpredictable winter weather is imposing on Illinoisans.

In announcing the action, Dixon said, "Many Illinoisans are finding annual auto registration extremely difficult and inconvenient this year, as evidenced by the fact that license plate sales in December and January have been far below normal."

"In fact, with Feb. 15 less than a week away, half of the automobiles registered in the state last year are still unlicensed for 1977—2,700,000 as compared to 5,600,000 in 1976."

"There are many legitimate reasons for this," Dixon added.

"In most rural areas, roads have been closed frequently and are hazardous even when opened, making travel virtually impossible."

"Even in cities, many vehicles have been immobilized by constant sub-zero temperatures. In such circumstances, license plates become a low-priority item to the motorist."

"The cost of plates has also become a factor this year for a great many people who have had to alter their budgets to meet extraordinarily high heating bills."

"This is particularly true among senior citizens and others on fixed incomes. The weather is also a factor in installing plates. Some motorists, who already have new plates aren't putting them on yet for fear of freezing their fingers."

"In the face of all this, it makes little sense to stay with a deadline that can easily be changed. If we adhered to Feb. 15, we would have well be a last-minute rush that would only further inconvenience many people."

Dixon also urged that motorists still needing 1977 plates purchase them at the counter locations if at all possible.

"Although administration of the license plate program is proceeding smoothly, there is no substantial backlog," he said.

"Over-the-counter sale of license plates has been expanded in recent years, and nobody in Illinois lives more than 10 miles from a location where they can purchase plates in person."

In addition to Secretary of State facilities in Springfield and Chicago, plates may be purchased over-the-counter at more than 300 banks and savings and loan institutions throughout the state, and at more than 700 currency exchanges in the Chicago metropolitan area.

The four Quad-City banks participate.

Heating oil needs met

An Amoco Oil Company executive told a Federal Energy Administration hearing during the weekend that the company expects to be able to supply all of the heating oil needs of its heating oil customers for the remainder of the season.

H. G. Peterson, manager of pricing and marketing, Amoco, cited supply and distribution problems arising from a winter season that is nearly 39 per cent longer than last season.

Despite them, he said, Amoco has been able to not only serve its regular customers but to respond to the needs of its large industrial standby customers who have had to switch to alternate fuels because of cutbacks in natural gas deliveries.

"Our heating oil deliveries for the current period have exceeded those of last season by 38.4 per cent, job accounted for the additional cost, but which was done in a competitive market without regulation," Peterson said.

He told the FEA that Amoco's refineries are operating at capacity and are increasing distillate production in order to meet the heavy demand.

This, he said, has been done at the expense of a normal seasonal source of gasoline stocks, which should be occurring at this time.

While the sharply higher demand in itself would cause some distribution difficulties, the problems have been made considerably worse by the freezing of the principal waterways used in Amoco's barge and lake tanker distribution system, Peterson said.

This has forced the company to greatly expand its use of trucks—"a costly procedure"—in order to insure supply to Amoco's jobbers, who are the main source of distribution to homes, schools and industry, it was explained.

Noting the FEA's interest in recent price performance, Peterson declared that "cold weather—not—and will not—incuritable prices for distillates."

Although the FEA's monitoring model would apparently permit as much as a 4.7-cents-per-gallon increase in distillate prices since June, Amoco's prices in the North Central region have increased about 3.5 cents a gallon, Peterson said.

At the same time, Amoco's crude oil and normal seasonal costs during the period covered by the FEA's study have increased 4.2 cents per gallon, the pricing manager reported.

The 4.2-cent increase in costs does not include any of the sharply higher costs the company incurred recently as a result of the extreme distribution measures it had had to take, he added.

In a series of recommendations, Peterson urged that taxes and allocations of middle distillates continue to be exempt from government control.

"It seems clear that supply and price problems suffered by some refiners went into effect proves that the competitive industry is capable of operating in a manner that will provide consumers with needed supplies at reasonable and equitable prices—even in the circumstances we have encountered this winter," he declared.

Peterson said Amoco also is strongly opposed to an entitlements program to be extended to cover the importation of middle distillates.

"Our customers here in the North Central area are already being asked to bear the higher crude costs of some of our competitors," he said.

"We do not believe the FEA can justify to these customers that they should be asked further to subsidize the cost of importing finished products for East Coast customers."

Charge 3 in use of stolen credit card

Shirley J. Barber, 42, Cheryl A. Muyleart, 21, and Lee A. Nameoki, 20, all of 3705 Nameoki Road, have been charged with two counts of deceptive practices and with theft for allegedly using a stolen credit card at two Granite City stores and allegedly attempting to use it at a Pontoon Beach store, all Wednesday afternoon.

Two men and a woman used the credit card at Louie Dori, Fairview Heights, to make a $25 purchase at the Leader Store, 3705 Nameoki Road, and later a $64 purchase at Glik's Store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center, respectively.

At 2:50 p.m. Wednesday, Pontoon Beach police were told a woman was attempting to use a stolen credit card at P.N. Hirsch Co., Gaslight Plaza in Bellemore Village, and a police car was dispatched.

When the officer arrived, he alleged seeing a young woman run from the store and get into a car in the parking lot which quickly left the shopping center lot.

He chased the car, stopping it on Lake Drive in the village. Dori's credit card and a receipt of charge in Leader and Glik's bags were found in the car, it was alleged. The three occupants then were arrested.

Pontoon Beach police charged the three with violating a village ordinance which allows that charge to be used when intent to commit a theft is alleged. Then they took the three to the Granite City police who questioned them about the Leader and Glik's incidents before charging each with two counts of deceptive practices.

Dori was called and said his wallet had disappeared yesterday while he was in a Fairview Heights gymnasium.

Firemen were at the scene one and a half hours.

Discuss 'cold weather blues'

"Cold, snowy weather can bring 'cabin fever' for many who are not able to get out of the house. For others, it can bring out the more serious problem of depression. Without the distraction of 'places to go and people to see' there is time to feel low. This can become especially irritating with spouse and children," a Mental Health Clinic Quad-City Center spokesman says.

"Depression is a problem that everyone struggles with at some point another in his life. Some depressions can be prevented; others cannot."

The causes, symptoms and treatment of depression will be the subject of a four-week discussion group offered at the Mental Health Clinic in Granite City. The sessions will be held on Monday afternoons from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

"Anyone interested in attending may call 877-4420. Fees will be based on an individual's ability to pay," the spokesman said.

Burglar flees

A young burglar was seen fleeing from the rear door of the home of Joan Jackson, 2454 Bedford Avenue, about 6:10 p.m. Wednesday.

A witness said he saw the rear door open and saw a youth inside, so he jolted through a snowball at the rear door. That was Mrs. Jackson's son. The burglar then fled out the door to a light tan 1960 to 1965 pickup truck parked in the alley behind the home and drove away.

Mr. Jackson found furniture had been stacked by the rear door, but nothing was known missing. The living room, bedroom, dresser and clothes were unstacked. Holes were kicked in two walls.

There were no signs of forced entry, but it is believed the rear door may have been left

Energy hearing Friday

Local attendance is being encouraged for a public hearing tomorrow at the Collinsville Building and Loan building, 321 E. Beilby.

Hours of the hearing on Illinois energy conservation planning will be 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Friday.

Attendance is invited and are being invited by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

Under provisions of the Federal Energy Conservation Act of 1976, the state energy office is holding seven hearings to discuss feasible steps for energy conservation.

The intent of the public hearings is to provide a format in which citizens of Illinois can participate in development of a state energy conservation plan.

Testimony on energy conservation measures they feel should be developed by 1980 and how they should be implemented.

Goal of the state's plan is to save five per cent of anticipated Illinois energy consumption by 1980.

The hearings are co-sponsored by the Division of Energy and the Energy Resources Commission.

The hearings are conducted by a special hearing examiner.

The local coordinator will be Richard Worthen of Atton-

Hackett said.

"If you have the flu or a bad cold, you are off work for two or three days, you don't go to a doctor."

"You can ask that someone bring a doctor's statement in without making a blanket rule for all teachers," Miss Hackett said.

"This is going to wind up with people sitting in the classroom with colds and flu giving it to the kids."

Board Member John Bouhard said that teachers "are no better than anybody else" and noted many plants require a statement from a doctor.

"I didn't spend thousands of dollars to get an education to be a plant worker," Miss Hackett retorted sharply.

But President Jack Tolliver said the policy is not unusual, adding, "If I am off work for three days I must bring in a doctor's certificate before returning to work."

Hits heater

A hit and run motorist struck a large heating unit, moving it about 12 feet, and causing about $1,000 damage at the Do-It-Yourself Home Improvement Center, Route 111 near State Aid Madison.

Michael E. Patterson, 22, of 206 Sixth St., Madison, was charged with negligent driving and released on $25 cash bond.

Kevin W. Cagle, 23, of 203 Granville St., Venice, was charged with obstructing a police officer and resulting arrest and was released on $25 cash bond pending a court appearance.

The three men allegedly were involved in a disturbance at 1:45 a.m. on Sunday at 203 Granville St., Venice, selected as a Nuclear Engineering Department representative for the University of Illinois' 1977 engineering open house. She graduated from Granite City High School South.

Nutrition key to long life

Genetics and environment play key roles in how long people live. But, according to an expert on the study of aging, nutrition is the key to "liveable" longevity. Speaking to a gathering of educators at Illinois University at Edwardsville, Professor Calvin A. Lang of the University of Louisville School of Medicine this week discussed "The Newer Biology of Aging."

A national lecturer for Sigma Xi national honorary science fraternity, he is currently director of the biomedical aging unit at the University of Louisville. He said one of the most important questions researchers on aging ask is, "How old is old?"

We now know that "how old you are is how many years since you were born," he said. Today, people are beginning to think of old age as the time when the person loses the ability to function, he explained.

Dr. Lang said that in 1975, over 22 million or 10 per cent of the population reached 65 years of age or older. By the year 2030, 17 per cent or 5.6 million people will be 65 or older, he predicted.

He said that there is a need for answers to problems associated with aging. "Aging research is concerned not with how many years a person survives but the ability to function," Dr. Lang stressed. "The idea is to live livelier longer."

He said the old belief that people begin aging as soon as they are conceived was wrong. "Changes that occur in growth and differentiation are different from the effects of aging," he said. "We measure the effects of aging in the time of maturation in the organism," in humans about 30 to 35 years.

The biological stages for organisms include growth, maturity, old age and death.

With research begun to study the effects of aging, Dr. Lang said they encounter some unique problems. First, if the usual laboratory animals such as rats are used, it is hard to determine whether to control their genetic makeup.

As an aside, he added that few research assistants on fellowships stay around for two or three years till the rats reach age 30.

At the University of Louisville, mosquitoes are being used to learn how organisms get old. Since they have a short life span, can be easily bred, and even raised in sterile conditions, they make good test subjects.

Although he was careful not to draw too many comparisons between humans and mosquitoes, Dr. Lang said much of the data may apply to all living organisms.

In medical research, they found that mosquitoes raised at a few degrees colder temperature lived longer than those raised at slightly higher temperatures. Dr. Lang said this cannot be explained merely as a matter of metabolism.

Mosquito larvae grown at lower temperatures develop longer as adults than larvae which developed faster at warmer temperatures.

He said another study at Cornell University emphasized the importance of energy intake during different animal stages.

Using specially bred rats, this study found that rats raised on a restricted diet live sometimes twice as long as rats allowed to eat at liberty.

This led to research to discover what types of food would be restricted to help organisms stay functional longer. Researchers found that the proteins and calories not only led to increased longevity but also reduced the number of cancerous tumors in rats exposed to cancer-producing agents.

"Nutrition is the only way to increase longevity if not the quality of life," Dr. Lang said.

"Obese people live a much shorter length of time.

Diseases, like disease and cancer rates go sky high in obese individuals."

He warned that "fad" diets are not the answer to living longer. "Sensible diets are good, and studies show that stuffing the body with proteins is not good," he said, referring to one current diet which is high in protein.

Keep your vitamin and mineral intake up with some proteins and amino acids. But cut down on calorie intake," he urged.

Dr. Lang added that aging research is leading to renewed interest in nutrition, which he said is still an unexplored field.

He said that when we are ignorant about nutrition, not only the "clock time" of life but also the quality of life will increase.

Venice ambulance operator says 'still in business'

Michael Markovich, operator of Michael's Ambulance Service, Venice, said yesterday his business is not affected by the recent announcement by Thomas Ambulance Service that it intends to discontinue emergency ambulance service March 15.

"I am going to be in the ambulance service for a long time," he said, adding, "I've had inquiries, including seven calls today, asking me if I am going to continue ambulance service."

"I will continue to service emergency and convalescent cases in Venice," Michael said.

Michael operates one ambulance with Markovich and his son running it 24 hours per day.

He commented he has had no problem collecting the bills for services provided and good cooperation from the Madison police, but alleged persons often are kept waiting at accidents in other areas while police or deputies try to find another ambulance.

"Sometimes I am right here, ready to go and could get there in minutes, and they wait while they bring an ambulance back from Point Pleasant or somewhere else."

"People should not have to wait for an ambulance. Unless I am out on a call, I am ready 24 hours a day and respond when called," he stated.

Markovich said he has given some thought to expanding his service by adding one or more ambulances and more people on his staff, but said he is not ready at this time to do so.

"If the cities have some proposals how we could solve the ambulance problems, I would be glad to run the whole thing for them," he concluded.

An ordinance banning the parking of any vehicle longer than 18 months at two locations was enacted during the meeting. The ban affects parking on Illinois Avenue from 23rd Street to 25th Street, and on West 25th Street from Missouri Avenue to Bryan Avenue.

Another ordinance was enacted providing a load limit of five tons for any vehicle in the 2100 block of "Cleveland Boulevard."

Other traffic control ordinances enacted by the council included the establishment of a loading zone on the south side of 22nd Street from Benton Avenue to the alley between Benton and Adams Street, and a no parking zone on the south side of 2nd Street from Benton to the alley between Benton and Cleveland Boulevard.

Sverdrup engineer for hospital sewer

Sverdrup & Parcel, St. Louis planning and engineering firm, will be retained by Granite City to supervise the planning and engineering in structural design of the new system in connection with the $10-million renovation and enlargement project at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The City Council voted Tuesday night to authorize Mayor Paul Schuler to sign a contract with the engineering firm after City Engineer Monroe Brewer informed the aldermen that the professional engineering division of the city will be an employee of the city rather than the hospital.

Several construction plans in the hospital project include structural changes in the 72-inch sewer. Brewer told the council that the city will be fully reimbursed by the hospital for engineering costs.

In other council action, Tuesday night, the council approved recommendations by Fire Chief Don Parente for the extension of water mains at the front of the hospital, and installation of new hydrants.

Hydrants also are to be included in two of the water main extensions.

Proposed main extensions approved by the council include the front of southwest corner of 17th and State streets to the northwest corner of 17th Street and Delmar Avenue, for a distance of 600 feet, no fire hydrant to be included; from Prairie and Bremen to the southeast corner of Prairie and Ferguson, approximately 260 feet. Fire hydrants will be installed from the northwest corner of 29th and Grand Avenue to the northwest corner of 29th and Madison, approximately 300 feet, fire hydrant to be included.

New fire hydrants will be located at Rode and Norwood, at 2900 Wayne Avenue and on Harvey Place, 500 feet east of Sibley Avenue. This modification will be introduced at a later meeting to confirm the action.

An ordinance banning the parking of any vehicle longer than 18 months at two locations was enacted during the meeting. The ban affects parking on Illinois Avenue from 23rd Street to 25th Street, and on West 25th Street from Missouri Avenue to Bryan Avenue.

Nine undergo surgery here

Patients at St. Elizabeth Hospital who have undergone major surgery since Monday:

Frank Polach, 2004 Twelfth St.; Linda Smith, 4201 Collins, 3800 Pontoon Road; Jere Collins, Collinsville; Clara Heidebeck, 2563 Waterman Ave.

Leonard Surratt, 1000 Iowa St.; Patience Cook, Brooklyn; Margaret O'Brien, Clinton; Douglass Ave., Venice; Tina Osha, 4210 Maryville Road.

The Press-Record erred Monday in referring to a Granite City law as an "estate." It was named after Larry Calvo and Paul Gazzardo. The name of the lawyer is Larry Calvo, son of Circuit Judge Horace Calvo. A United Steelworkers of America campaigner, Lloyd McBride, identified the Calvo-Gazzardo firm in remarks here Monday as the one mentioned on Sunday's "Face the Nation" network television interview as contributing $1,000 to the union election campaign.

YOUR EASTER HAM FREE!

That's Right! Schermer's Would Like To Buy Your Easter Ham! Here's How It Works:

Each week (for the next 10 weeks), whenever you do your shopping at Schermer's (Minimum $20 Purchase), you'll receive a sticker to be pasted on this form in the correct place. At the end of 10 weeks (April 4-9), you will receive — ABSOLUTELY FREE — a fully cooked, top quality, boneless ham (7.9 lbs.) for your holiday enjoyment on Easter Sunday, April 10.

CAUTION — Do not leave the store without your sticker. Make sure you receive your weekly sticker. (Limit one free ham per customer).

FIRST WEEK JAN. 31 thru FEB. 5	SECOND WEEK FEB. 7 thru FEB. 12	THIRD WEEK FEB. 14 thru FEB. 19	FOURTH WEEK FEB. 21 thru FEB. 26	FIFTH WEEK FEB. 28 thru MAR. 5
SIXTH WEEK MAR. 7 thru MAR. 12	SEVENTH WEEK MAR. 14 thru MAR. 19	EIGHTH WEEK MAR. 21 thru MAR. 26	NINTH WEEK MAR. 28 thru APRIL 2	TENTH WEEK APRIL 4 thru APRIL 9

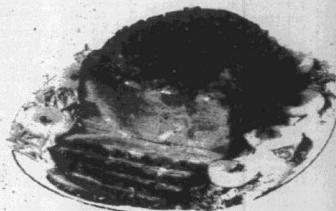

Should misfortune come your way and you are prevented from shopping at Schermer's during one of the 10 weeks, do not despair; you can still get the Easter ham for $9 stickers plus two dollars. If you are doubly unfortunate and miss 2 at Schermer's we will offer the ham for $8 stickers plus four dollars. This should take care of all the emergencies that might occur during the 10 weeks.

Either way, whether you have $10 or $100, you can't afford to pass up the best deal — HAPPY EASTER AND HAPPY SHOPPING AT SCHERMER'S.

Love not included in Tanya's plans

By NANCY ANDERSON

Press-Record
Hollywood Bureau
Tanya Tucker, recently turned 18, says her milestone birthday isn't going to change her life.

She's not going to spend her money madly. She's not going to get her own apartment.

And she's not even planning to fall in love.

Though all of these options are open to her at 18.

"About the only difference my being 18 will make is in the business department," Tanya says. "But my dad is my business manager, and he'll continue to be."

"No, I'm not interested in running away from my family. I went there some rebellion stages just like all girls do. I guess, but all told I had a pretty happy childhood."

Romantically speaking, Tanya's unattached.

For three years a horse trainer was her steady beau, but she says that's blown over and nobody else interests her just now.

The horse trainer's first name is Mike, but Tanya keeps his full name a secret because, she explains, "He just hates publicity."

"I wasn't allowed to date until I was 16," she continues, "and I think that's a good age to start dating."

"Oh, sure, I wanted to have dates earlier. But now, looking back, I'm sure I didn't miss anything except maybe some problems."

"If you start dating too early, you may get married too early because you're really ready for the responsibility."

"The way I look at it now, I don't want to marry until I'm a lot older than I am."

"I'm not even in a big hurry for sex," she says.

While Tanya pledges that she's not going to spend money recklessly now that she can control her funds, she admits it's hard to resist two temptations.

TANYA TUCKER

"I'm a clothes fanatic," she confesses. "And I love horses. When I see a horse I want, it's hard not to buy him."

Before she was recognized as a singer, Tanya got into show business in a very small cameo role in the Robert Redford film,

"Jeremiah Johnson."

The producer actually wanted to hire her horse, but when Tanya refused to let a stranger ride her, she got hired instead.

At 13, she had her first hit record, "Della Dawn," which catapulted her to the top echelon of recording artists, a position she's maintained since.

"Sometimes I get sick of this," Tanya says, speaking of her fame and the demands it imposes. "Having a career like mine is like having five part-times. You have to do so many different things."

"And sometimes I really wish I had more privacy."

"But in the long run I'm grateful for my success. I couldn't be in a business that's more exciting."

Rites held for Harold Stoltz

Funeral services were held yesterday in Sumner, Ill., for Harold L. Stoltz, 50, of 613 Margaret Place, Mitchell, who died in St. Mary's Hospital, Decatur, Ill., at 1:00 a.m. Sunday.

Mr. Stoltz, a self-employed truck driver, was taken from the Macon County Jail at Decatur to the hospital at 8:20 p.m. Saturday with chest pains. He was taken to the hospital, then to the hospital on previous occasions for heart problems and he was being given medication while in jail.

He was interred in the cage of death to be opened in about three weeks, when blood and other samples have been analyzed.

Mr. Stoltz was arrested in Mitchell Jan. 21 on Macon County warrants alleging a

Endorse Rt. 157 project

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board and chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors, has announced that the Gateway board has endorsed a $6.7 million project for improvement of Illinois Route 157 from Schwar Street to Terminal Drive in Edwardsville.

The plan calls for widening the route to four lanes with a concrete median and conducting a railroad grade separation over an Illinois Terminal Railroad right-of-way.

This project is part of the Gateway Council's adopted $1.2 billion five-year transportation improvement program for the St. Louis Metropolitan Area. The Route 157 project will now be forwarded to appropriate state and federal agencies for final action.

Two charged with felonies

Two Granite City men have been named in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office alleging felonies.

Another informational document alleging burglary is Joseph T. Becker, 2336 Northerbridge, who is charged with entering a railroad car of the Chicago and Northwestern Transportation Co. at Cochem siding Dec. 14 with intent to commit a theft.

His bond was set at $5,000 and he was released on his own recognizance by Circuit Judge William Bechtel.

Another informational document alleges burglary by Jack Miltsevich, 3010 Kirkpatrick Homes. It charged he entered a building owned by Dennis Kent, 19 Matherhorn Drive, Glen Carbon, Jan. 3 with intent to commit a theft.

His bond was set at $15,000 and he was held in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville on lieu of bond.

MASTER CHARGE SETS NEW RECORDS IN 1976

Master Charge cardholders in the metropolitan St. Louis and the Quad-Cities generated $750,284,000 worth of business during 1976, a 28 per cent increase over 1975. The number of individual cardholders — retail purchases and bank cash advances — increased 19 per cent to over 29,000,000.

Biggest single month was December's Christmas period with over $90,000,000 sales recorded, a 19 per cent increase over the same month a year ago. More than 11,000 new Master Charge merchants joined the system during the year, bringing the total number of merchant outlets to over 48,000.
